The Volvo XC40 has been approved in accordance with the World Harmonised Light Vehicle Test Procedure (WLTP), a new and more realistic test procedure for measuring the fuel consumption and CO_2 emissions of the car. The WLTP replaces the New European Driving Cycle test procedure, "NEDC", and takes account of the options and certain accessories in the car which have an impact on the weight and aerodynamics of the vehicle. Owing to the more realistic test conditions, the fuel consumption and CO_2 emissions measured in accordance with the WLTP are in many cases higher than those measured using the NEDC.

* Consumption and emission trials conducted in conditions monitored by a test body approved in accordance with the World Harmonised Light Vehicle Test Procedure ("WLTP") (EURO 6e-bis) emissions standard), a more realistic procedure for measuring the fuel co$_n$sumption and CO2 emissions of the car. The WLTP replaces the New European Driving Cycle test procedure, "NEDC", and takes account of the options and certain accessories in the car which have an impact on the weight and aerodynamics of the vehicle. In addition to fuel efficiency, driving behaviour and other non-technical factors can also result in higher fuel consumption and CO_2 emissions from the car in practice.
The CO_2 emissions are displayed within a range of values with the lowest possible value and the highest possible value depending on the options and accessories chosen, that is standard equipment (the lowest) compared with full-option equipment (the highest).
